

Privacy Policy

Worker Policy - Last Updated: Jan 2026

1. Information We Collect

To operate the platform, we collect your name, phone number, email, and payment details. We may also collect profile photos and verification documents.

2. Location Data

We do not track your real-time location. We only collect location data when you manually enter an address (e.g., your home base) to match you with nearby jobs.

3. Data Sharing with Clients

When you accept a job, we share your First Name with the client so they know who to expect. We do not share your phone number, email, or exact home address with clients.

4. Payment Information

Your banking and tax information is shared directly with Stripe, our secure payment processor, for the purpose of facilitating payouts. We do not store your full bank account details on our servers.

5. Data Retention

We retain your account information for as long as you are an active worker on the platform. You may request account deletion at any time, subject to legal and tax reporting requirements.

6. Contact Us

If you have any questions about this Privacy Policy, please contact us at hello@joesoddjobs.com.